

Personal CV - ERDEM KILIÇ

Personal information

Name - Surname: Erdem Kilic

Academic Title: PhD

Education Profile

High School: Frankfurt 1998

Bachelor: J.W. Goethe University Frankfurt (2002)

Master: J.W. Goethe University Frankfurt, Diplom (2005)

Thesis subject: "Political Economic Determinants of Public Debt "

PhD: Yeditepe University (2008 - 2011)

Thesis subject: 'Essays on Spillover Effects;

Electricity Consumption, Monetary Interventions and Financial Contagion '

Foreign language:

German, mother-tongue level

English, very good

French, medium

Work experience

Istanbul Aydin University Lecturer Fall 2010 Teaching

Courses Taught:

- Mathematics (in Business Administration, English and Turkish),

- Engineering Economics (in Electrical and Electronic Engineering., English)

Middle East Technical University, Postdoctoral Researcher

Institute of Applied Mathematics, 10.2011 – 02.2013

Interests:

Financial Economics, Econometrics, International Economics

Publication List

International Article

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2011), 'Electricity Consumption and Spillover Effects - A Dynamic Panel Data Approach ', Chinese Business Review, Volume 10, Number 6, June 2011, pp. 415-423.

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2011), 'Are the EMU Fiscal Constraints really effective? – An Optimal Currency Area Approach', Journal of Money, Investment, and Banking, 34.

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2012), 'Evaluation of International Transmission Processes: Financial Contagion', Preprint, Middle East Technical University, Institute of Applied Mathematics.

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2012), 'Financial Contagion in Endogenous Volatile Periods: An International Perspective', Submitted to Review of International Economics (04/2012), Under Review.

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2012), 'Effect of excessive volatility on endogenous monetary policy preferences: Evidence from Turkey', Accepted for Publication, 2013 March Erdem Kilic, Veysel Ulusoy and G. Wilhelm Weber (2012), 'Monetary Regulation for Financial Contagion: Policy Coordination with heterogeneous Preferences', In Progress.

Erdem Kilic, Azer Kerimov and G. Wilhelm Weber (2012) 'Stochastic Hybrid Systems Applications in Finance (2012)', Chapter in Edited Volume by Gordon H Dash, Recent Advances in Computational Finance, Nova Science Publishers, Accepted for Publication.

International Conferences

Veysel Ulusoy and Erdem Kilic (2010), 'Electricity Consumption and Spillover Effects - A Dynamic Panel Data Approach', International Conference on Business, Management and Economics (ICBM) 2010 Conference Cesme, Turkey, e-proceeding.

Veysel Ulusoy and Erdem Kilic (2011), 'Central Bank of Measurement From Intervention Effectiveness Endogenous Policy Preferences', Eurasia Business and Economics Society 2011 Conference - Istanbul, June 1 - 3, 2011, Abstract Book, p. 60.

Veysel Ulusoy and Erdem Kilic (2011), 'Central Bank of Measurement From Intervention Effectiveness Endogenous Policy Preferences', International Conference on Mathematical Finance and Economics (ICMFE), July 6-8, 2011 Istanbul, Turkey, Abstract Book, pp. 63-64.

Erdem Kilic and Veysel Ulusoy (2012), 'Evaluation of International Transmission Processes: Financial Contagion', European Economics and Finance Society, 11th Annual Conference, June 14-16, 2012, Koç University, Istanbul, Turkey.